Are aliens real?

We see them in our books, textbooks, movies, shows and almost everything that has the fiction genre encompassing the speculation of alien existence.

What even are aliens? The idea of life existing outside planet Earth? Or is it simply a theory festered up by lonely or highly imaginative humans?

It is a very solemn thought to be alone in this colossal big cosmos.

The existence of life outside Earth definitely seems likely but unfortunately there has been no proof of such anywhere outside the biosphere with the exception of life being sent there. Nearly everywhere on Earth, microbial life has been found but not a single cell has been found in other areas explored in the Universe. Not even on MARS ; 18 ships of research have been sent there since 1971. If there isn't any semblance of life on Mars, the other planets might as well be inhabitable. Mars has been the most clement environment after Earth in the solar system and frankly resemblance the future castaway Earth. The resources and life of Mars has been depleted.

What if we are the ones destroying beings one at a time?
