CLASS OF FOCUS

GRADE 5

Kusuma Ma'am- Grade 5 Class Teacher

I realised my potential to teach when doing my graduation and post graduation. everyone liked my lectures and I used to take substitution for teachers as a student. Also participation in lectures, debates and interaction with eminent personalities regarding my lectures boosted my confidence and lecturing became my passion. Grade 5 is an energetic class, the classes for them should have more physical activity, hence I include quizzes, games, fun activities and all students engage themselves in these activities and enjoy learning. .

Firstly, I give them the trust and freedom to approach me and convey what they feel about a particular concept. Based on that I will plan my classes, if it is tough concept I will use more hands on activities. If they get the concept fast and feel bored, I will give them HOTS questions. Yes, experience makes you learn everything.

Students are competitive, so we need to encash this. So I include lot of competition between the students, be it house wise or individual. This keeps them engaged. Then i use lot of real life examples of the given topic, which makes them share their experiences and get them involved.

MINI-OLYMPICS

MINI-OLYMPICS

On 2nd September the IGCSE branch of VVP hosted the final day for the mini Olympics. This was a 3 day sports event and it's final day was hosted in the IG campus. The event was conducted for kids under 10 and was an excellent demonstration for the athletic capabilities of the students. The event was monitored by the student council who while helping the coaches also kept discipline in order and morale high. The event had an abrupt stop because of the Bengaluru weather but in the end all the competitions happened and the winners were announced during the ending ceremony. The event was overall one of the best VVP IG has hosted and was enjoyed by both the participants and volunteers. -- Atharv Gupta Ig 9

TEACHER'S DAY

TEACHER'S DAY

In the bustling city of Bangalore, where each day is a whirlwind of activity, there's a special place that knows how to make time stand still. VVP School, nestled in the heart of this tech-savvy metropolis, recently celebrated Teacher's Day with a delightful blend of respect, humour, and heartfelt gratitude.

The school assembly on that sunny September morning was an affair to remember. With giggles in the air, the students took charge, leading the event with a mischievous glint in their eyes.

And of course, no Teacher's Day would be complete without some unforgettable performances. From classical dance to hilarious skits, the students showcased their talents with enthusiasm, making sure their teachers indulged in chuckles and hearty applause. The teachers, to their credit, took it all in their stride, with smiles that matched the brilliance of their students.

Teacher's Day celebration was a reminder that education isn't just about textbooks and exams. It's a journey of shared experiences, a bridge between generations, and a testament to the profound impact teachers have on their students. It's a day when students and teachers alike come together to celebrate the beautiful relationship they share. As the assembly ended with a thunderous applause, there was a sense of unity, of a shared purpose that defined the spirit of the school. So here's to VVP School, where every day is Teacher's Day, and where learning is not just about lessons but also about laughter and love. May the spirit of this celebration live on, reminding us all that in the journey of education, every day is an opportunity to be grateful for the wonderful teachers who light our way.
