OUR FUTURE BEGINS TODAY.....

Yesterday was over yesterday.

Today is a new day.

The rest of our future begins today.

We need to understand life through three fold ways. Past,present and future.By retaining only the lessons of the past,we must live our present with awareness and prepare for the flourishing future.

Treat the past not as a source of agony and hurt but as an experience to gain maturity.This maturity plans the present and constructs our future. Bitter yesterdays always have the power to create a better tomorrow. So, when bad things happen to good people,they become better people.

The beginning is from where we begin.

"BEGIN TODAY,BEGIN NOW."

The person we really are is waiting for us.

So,explore the future with a bright beginning at this moment.

Life is not about the opportunities we missed in the past.

Life is about the opportunities we can create in the future.

So,live life with the greatest assurance that,

"My future begins now....."

Hence, life is beautiful when you actualise and maximize your potential from this moment.
